

Where the Money Goes

Below are some examples of how the American Cancer Society is attacking cancer from every angle and leading the fight for a world without cancer.

 The ACS provides free information and support for a person facing cancer via 1.800.227.2345, email, and online chats.

 ACS is the largest non-profit funder of cancer research and is currently funding $390,365,888 in research grants, and $25,473,500 in Pennsylvania alone. These grants are in effect at local hospitals such as CHOP, Fox Chase, University of Penn, Temple, and Thomas Jefferson.

 The ACS provides rides to and from treatment through our Road To Recovery program.

 The ACS provides free lodging to patients and their caregiver having to travel away from home for their treatment at our Philadelphia AstraZeneca Hope Lodge, and local hotel partners.

 ACS helps women facing breast cancer to be guided through every step of their journey through our Reach to Recovery program.
